NEBRASKA NOW PROGRAM ELIGIBILITY APPEAL FORM
UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA–LINCOLN

If a student is unable to maintain a term or cumulative GPA of at least 2.00 in the NEBRASKA Now Program, the student will be placed on university probation and will be unable to continue future enrollments in NEBRASKA Now. Admission from the NEBRASKA Now Program will be immediately withdrawn for future terms.

NEBRASKA Now eligibility may be appealed if a student has experienced relevant extenuating circumstances which prevented academic success in the course and/or has a satisfactory plan to improve academic performance during a future term. If you wish to submit an appeal, please complete and submit this form by the Thursday before the start of the new term for which you wish to register. Please also attach a brief explanation of your circumstances detailing how you will better prepare for and excel in the NEBRASKA Now program if approved to enroll in a future term. In your explanation, please include the course title(s) in which you intend to enroll. NEBRASKA Now staff will evaluate your statement and coursework and will be in contact with you regarding your program eligibility.

Please note that your probation status can impact future enrollment at NEBRASKA if you choose to apply as a degree seeking student. Please familiarize yourself with the university’s probation and dismissal policies as found here: registrar.unl.edu/academic-standards.

Students participating in NEBRASKA Now should also be aware of the financial aid policy known as Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) for Financial Aid Recipients policy, which requires financial aid recipients to meet specific academic expectations in making progress towards earning a degree, in order to be eligible to receive federal, state, and certain university financial aid funds. The coursework that the NEBRASKA Now students attempt becomes part of their NEBRASKA academic record, and as such, once they become degree seeking students at NEBRASKA, these courses will be part of the SAP calculation each spring following their matriculation at the university. The SAP for Financial Aid Recipients policy can be viewed here: financialaid.unl.edu/sap. For further information regarding this policy please contact the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid, 402-472-2030.
